Sample answers

One strong answer for each task. Use them for ideas, structure and vocabulary, not to memorise: examiners notice memorised answers.

Task 1: Eating Well on a Plant-Based Diet

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Hannah, I love that you're trying this, and you really don't need to worry about protein. Plenty of marathon runners are vegan.

The trick is to build every meal around a protein first and then add everything else. So breakfast could be oatmeal made with soy milk and a big spoon of peanut butter. Lunch might be a lentil soup, and dinner something with tofu or tempeh. After your runs, a smoothie with soy milk and hemp hearts will help your muscles recover.

And vegan food definitely doesn't have to be boring. The secret is spices and sauces. Look at Indian, Ethiopian or Mexican cooking. A spicy chana masala or black bean tacos with lime and cilantro are so good you won't miss the meat.

To make life easier, batch cook a couple of dishes on Sunday.

One more thing: talk to your doctor about a B12 supplement, since it's the one nutrient plants don't really give you. If you want, come over Friday and we'll cook together.

Task 2: An Unexpected Discovery

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

I once discovered a hidden room in my house when I was renovating. It was behind a wall, and inside was a collection of old books and artifacts. It was incredible to think that such a secret space had been there all along. The discovery sparked a deep interest in local history and even led me to research the previous owners of the house.

Task 3: Sunbathers by Turquoise Water

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

This is a crowded beach on a gorgeous sunny day, and the water is so clear that you can see the sand right through it near the shore. In the foreground, a woman in a black bikini and a man in black swim trunks are sitting side by side on a bright blue and purple towel, right at the water's edge, with their backs to us. A black backpack is lying on the sand next to them. Off to the right, a woman in a blue bikini is sitting in the shallow water while a small child splashes beside her. On the left, a couple is stretched out on the sand, propped up on their elbows. Groups of people are scattered across the beach under striped umbrellas in blue, green, pink and rainbow colours. Further out, dozens of swimmers are bobbing in the turquoise sea under a pale blue sky.

Task 4: Friends at the beach

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Looking at this vibrant beach scene, I can foresee several developments. As the day continues, the group of friends will likely move between various activities. Some of the volleyball players will probably invite others to join the game, making it more competitive and lively. The children building sandcastles may soon run to the water to splash around in the gentle waves, and the adults will continue to relax under the umbrella, engaging in conversation and enjoying the beach snacks. The calm, sunny weather suggests that the boat in the distance may eventually approach the shore, possibly offering beachgoers a chance for a boat ride. Overall, this scene will likely evolve into a full day of beach fun, with everyone alternating between relaxation and play as the sun continues to shine

Task 5: Restaurant Menu Update

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

I understand your suggestion for the simplified menu, but I'm confident the Health-Conscious Menu would be the best choice for our restaurant. As dietary preferences shift toward healthier eating, this menu will attract a growing market of health-conscious consumers. The International Cuisine Menu is exciting but requires a significant investment and may not appeal to everyone. While the simplified menu is quick and affordable, it lacks the unique appeal that would differentiate our restaurant from competitors. The Health-Conscious Menu provides a fresh and modern option that will not only satisfy current trends but also position our restaurant as a forward-thinking establishment.

Task 6: Emergency Room Visit Priority

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

While I fully recognize the priority system in the emergency room, the wait time has become quite uncomfortable. I'll approach the nurse and respectfully inquire if there's any chance of being seen a bit sooner. I understand the importance of treating more urgent cases first, but I hope they can assist me with a quicker evaluation, especially since I'm in some pain. I'll be polite but firm in asking for their help, as I'm sure they understand the discomfort involved.

Task 7: Virtual Reality in Education

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

I strongly believe that virtual reality (VR) should be incorporated into schools for teaching and learning, as it offers several advantages over traditional methods. First, VR can create highly engaging and interactive learning environments that capture students' attention and foster deeper understanding. Imagine studying biology by exploring the human body or learning history by virtually visiting ancient civilizations. Second, VR offers a more personalized approach to education. Students can learn at their own pace, engaging with content in ways that suit their individual learning styles. Finally, integrating VR into classrooms prepares students for the future, as technological literacy is increasingly important in the modern workforce. In conclusion, VR has the potential to revolutionize education, and I believe it should be widely adopted in schools.

Task 8: A Friend's Birthday Surprise

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Hi, I'm at a surprise birthday party I helped plan for my friend, and everything is coming together perfectly. We've decorated the entire room with vibrant balloons and banners, and the cake is absolutely stunning – it's a three-tier cake with intricate designs and her favorite flavors. The best part is seeing the excitement on everyone's face as we wait for her to arrive. I've never organized a surprise party like this before, but it's been really fun and special. I can't wait to see her reaction. Have you ever been part of a surprise celebration?
