Task 1: Writing an Email

Time: 27 minutes · Length: 150–200 words

Reviewing an Online Spreadsheet Course

You have just finished an eight-week online spreadsheet course offered by a college in Winnipeg. You took the course for $350 to prepare for a new job as an office administrator. The college has asked students to share their opinions about the course by email.

Write an email to the course coordinator in about 150-200 words. Your email should do the following things:

Tell the coordinator what you liked about the course.

Describe any difficulties you had.

Suggest how the course could be improved.

Your answer: _____ words

Task 2: Responding to Survey Questions

Time: 26 minutes · Length: 150–200 words

Community Center Activity Funding Survey

Your neighborhood community center has received additional funding and is planning to introduce a new program for residents. Some members suggest using the funds to create fitness classes and wellness programs such as yoga, aerobics, and strength training, which would promote a healthy lifestyle. Others believe the funds should be used for arts and culture activities, including painting, music lessons, and theater workshops, to encourage creativity and cultural appreciation. Since only one program can be introduced, the community center is seeking input from residents to make the best decision.

Which option do you prefer? Why?

- Option A: Invest in fitness and wellness programs to promote physical health.
- Option B: Invest in arts and culture programs to support creativity and self-expression.

Your answer: _____ words

Task 1: Reviewing an Online Spreadsheet Course

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Dear Course Coordinator,

Having just completed your eight-week online spreadsheet course, I wanted to share some feedback. I enrolled to prepare for a new role as an office administrator, and I already feel far more confident.

What I valued most were the practical materials. The video lessons were concise, and the practice files mirrored real workplace tasks, such as creating a monthly budget and a staff rotation. The instructor's detailed comments, which usually arrived within a day, were especially helpful.

That said, a few aspects were frustrating. Many videos were recorded in an older version of the software, so I often had to search for menus that had moved. Each quiz could be attempted only once, which discouraged practice, and questions on the discussion board sometimes remained unanswered for up to four days.

I would recommend refreshing the videos to match the current version and introducing a weekly live Q&A session, which would solve the communication delays. Allowing unlimited practice attempts on quizzes would also encourage students to learn from their mistakes.

Thank you for a well-designed and genuinely useful course.

Kind regards,

Samira Benali

Task 2: Community Center Activity Funding Survey

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

I strongly advocate for Option A, as prioritizing fitness and wellness programs would yield the greatest benefits for community members.

Physical inactivity is a growing concern, contributing to obesity, cardiovascular diseases, and mental health challenges. Providing structured fitness classes at the community center would make exercise accessible and affordable for residents, leading to improved public health outcomes.

Additionally, wellness programs such as yoga and meditation promote stress relief and mental well-being. Studies have shown that regular physical activity enhances productivity, mood, and overall life satisfaction, making it a crucial investment in our community's well-being.

While arts and culture are important, health is a foundational necessity. Investing in fitness programs ensures long-term benefits for all residents, creating a healthier and more vibrant community.
