Task 1: Writing an Email

Time: 27 minutes · Length: 150–200 words

Swimming Competition Incident

You attended a swimming competition, but there was an issue with the organization, timing, or facilities.

Write an email to the event organizer. Your email should include:

What you generally thought about the competition.

- The specific issue you encountered.
- How this issue affected your experience.
- Suggestions for improving future events.

Your answer: _____ words

Task 2: Responding to Survey Questions

Time: 26 minutes · Length: 150–200 words

Public Event Funding

Your town is allocating funds for a public event and seeking resident input. Some suggest a cultural festival with music and food from different countries. Others propose a science fair to inspire interest in technology. Only one event can be funded.

Which option do you prefer? Why?

- Option A: Cultural festival with music and food.
- Option B: Science fair to inspire technology interest.

Your answer: _____ words

Task 1: Swimming Competition Incident

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Dear [Organizer's Name],

I had the privilege of attending your recent swimming competition, which showcased remarkable talent and a lively spirit that made the event memorable. Regrettably, the competitionCont'd experience was marred by two issues: the competition started nearly an hour late, and insufficient seating forced many attendees, including myself, to stand for the entire event.

These shortcomings diminished an otherwise enjoyable day, as the delay disrupted schedules and the lack of seats caused discomfort. To elevate future competitions, I propose rigorous adherence to the planned schedule and an increase in seating capacity to ensure all spectators can enjoy the event comfortably.

Thank you for your commitment to this event. I am confident that with these adjustments, future competitions will be even more successful.

Sincerely,

[Your Full Name]

Task 2: Public Event Funding

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

I strongly advocate for Option A, as a cultural festival promotes social cohesion and inclusivity across the community.

Featuring diverse music—like jazz or folk tunes—and global cuisine such as curry or empanadas, it draws a wide audience, fostering cultural exchange and collective pride. While a science fair inspires technological curiosity, its narrower scope may exclude those uninterested in STEM, limiting its communal impact.

In contrast, the festival's universal appeal encourages maximum participation, enhancing harmony and leaving a lasting impression on our town's identity.
