Task 1: Writing an Email

Time: 27 minutes · Length: 150–200 words

Suggestion for a New Community Event

You would like to propose a new event for your community, such as a festival, workshop, or fitness event.

Write an email to the community center manager. Your email should include:

- A brief explanation of the event you are proposing.
- How it would benefit the community.
- Suggestions for organizing the event.
- A request for approval or support.

Your answer: _____ words

Task 2: Responding to Survey Questions

Time: 26 minutes · Length: 150–200 words

Workplace Wellness Program Survey

Your company is planning to introduce a new workplace wellness program to improve employees' health and productivity. Some employees suggest creating a mental health and stress management program, including meditation sessions, counseling services, and relaxation spaces. Others prefer a physical fitness program, which would provide gym memberships, workout sessions, and nutrition advice. Since the company has a limited budget, only one program can be introduced. The HR department is gathering employee feedback before making a decision.

Which option do you prefer? Why?

- Option A: Implement a mental health and stress management program.
- Option B: Introduce a physical fitness program for employees.

Your answer: _____ words

Task 1: Suggestion for a New Community Event

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Dear [Community Center Manager],

I am thrilled to propose a Community Wellness and Fitness Fair to enrich our neighborhood with opportunities for physical, mental, and social well-being. The event would feature diverse activities, such as yoga classes, health screenings, and nutrition workshops, fostering a stronger, healthier community.

This initiative would unite residents of all ages, promote sustainable lifestyle changes, and highlight local resources. To ensure success, I suggest hosting it at the community center, collaborating with local fitness trainers and health professionals, and leveraging community newsletters for outreach. I respectfully request your approval and support to bring this vision to life.

Thank you for your dedication to our community. I look forward to discussing this proposal further.

Sincerely,

[Your Full Name]

Task 2: Workplace Wellness Program Survey

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

I strongly advocate for Option A, as prioritizing mental health initiatives in the workplace yields long-term benefits for both employees and the organization.

Workplace stress and mental health issues significantly impact productivity, job satisfaction, and overall well-being. Studies show that companies investing in mental health programs experience reduced absenteeism, higher engagement, and increased efficiency. By offering meditation sessions, counseling, and relaxation spaces, employers create an environment that fosters resilience and emotional stability.

While physical fitness is undeniably important, stress and burnout are more pressing concerns in high-pressure work environments. Employees can pursue personal fitness outside the workplace, but mental health support often requires structured programs and professional guidance.

Investing in mental well-being ensures a healthier, more motivated workforce and contributes to a positive and sustainable company culture.
