- Option B: Launch a specialized recycling club where interested students manage and promote recycling initiatives.

Task 1: Request for Clearer Volunteer Scheduling and Communication Improvements

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Dear Ms. Thompson,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to address a few concerns related to the scheduling and communication procedures for volunteers. Over the past month, I have thoroughly enjoyed assisting with the after-school tutoring sessions, yet I have encountered repeated confusion about my assigned shifts.

On multiple occasions, I have received conflicting schedules from different staff members, leading to uncertainty over my volunteer hours. Additionally, my recent email requesting a minor change to my shift went unanswered, which made it challenging to adjust my personal commitments. This lack of clear communication not only affects volunteers like myself but also impacts the students, who benefit most from having consistent, well-prepared mentors.

I would greatly appreciate a standardized, up-to-date volunteer schedule, as well as a more reliable communication channel—perhaps a single online platform where shifts and announcements are posted in real time. If it would help to talk through these suggestions in person, I would be happy to meet at your earliest convenience.

Thank you for your attention, and I look forward to hearing your thoughts.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Task 2: Recycling in Schools Survey

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

I strongly support the installation of simple recycling bins throughout classrooms and hallways (Option A). This approach ensures broad participation by making recycling accessible to everyone, not just those interested in joining a club. While a recycling club (Option B) could provide targeted education and leadership opportunities, it risks restricting engagement to a minority of motivated students. In contrast, visible bins in common areas make recycling a normal, daily activity and encourage the development of lifelong environmentally friendly habits. Additionally, this system is easy to implement and maintain, requiring minimal resources while maximizing impact. Ultimately, integrating recycling bins into school infrastructure is the most inclusive and sustainable solution.
