Task 1: Inaccurate Billing

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Dear Billing Department,

I am deeply concerned about an electricity bill received on May 20, 2025, which inaccurately reflects my usage. The statement claims 500 kWh, yet my meter records only 200 kWh for the period, resulting in a substantial overcharge. This error not only places an undue financial burden on me but also erodes trust in your company's billing reliability. I respectfully request an immediate correction to the bill or a refund for the erroneous charges. Please provide confirmation of the steps taken to resolve this issue.

Warm regards,

[Your Name]

Task 2: E-learning for Adults Survey

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Subsidizing online courses for adults (Option A) would be the most effective method to expand e-learning access. Financial assistance reduces the barrier to continuing education, especially for working professionals and parents. While e-learning hubs offer resources for those without technology at home, cost remains the primary challenge for most adults. Providing subsidies empowers individuals to choose from a wider range of courses and learn at their own pace, enhancing workforce adaptability and lifelong learning.
