Task 1: Carpool Coordination

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Dear Jamie,

I hope all is well. To streamline our commute, I propose launching a weekly carpool beginning Monday, July 1. I'd pick you up at 7:25 AM at Elm St. & Pine Rd., then swing by Mark's near the mall at 7:40 AM. Sarah's SUV comfortably seats five, and my hatchback holds four—ample capacity for our group. Would you be comfortable with this arrangement, or would you prefer an earlier or alternate pickup point? Additionally, I suggest we rotate driving duties to share the load; I'm happy to drive Mondays and Thursdays.

Please let me know if you'd like any adjustments or if this plan meets your needs. Looking forward to a smoother, greener commute together!

Best regards,

Task 2: Financial Literacy Programs Survey

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Incorporating money management education into the school curriculum (Option A) lays a strong foundation for lifelong financial literacy. Early exposure to topics like budgeting, saving, and investing equips students with essential life skills. While adult workshops offer immediate solutions, a systemic approach in schools ensures that financial competence becomes universal, reducing economic challenges across generations.
