Task 1: Grocery Run Help

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Dear Taylor,

I hope your day's going well. I'm tied up at work and was wondering if you could help by picking up a few essentials from SunMart (5th & Pine) on your way home. I need: a gallon of low-fat milk, one dozen free-range eggs, a loaf of whole-wheat bread, and a pack of corn tortillas. The store closes at 8:00 PM, so any time before then would be perfect. I'll have cash waiting or can transfer the cost to you right away.

Thanks in advance for your help—I owe you one!

Warmly,

[Your Name]

Task 2: Crosswalk Improvements Survey

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Given how frequently I and my neighbors cross busy intersections—often at odd hours or during poor weather—I believe installing flashing lights and reflective paint at all crosswalks (Option A) is the best solution. These improvements would ensure constant, citywide visibility for pedestrians, significantly reducing accident risks. While crossing guards are valuable near specific locations, enhanced visibility benefits everyone in the community at all times, making our streets safer overall.
