Task 1: Writing an Email

Time: 27 minutes · Length: 150–200 words

Booking Trouble at a Health Centre

You are a patient at a community health centre in Brampton. Last week, you needed an appointment to renew your prescription for blood pressure medication. The centre's online booking system kept showing an error message, and when you phoned, you waited a long time without reaching anyone. You ran out of your medication before you could see a doctor.

Write an email to the manager of the health centre in about 150–200 words. Your email should do the following things:

Describe the difficulties you had when trying to book an appointment.

Explain how the delay affected your health.

Suggest how the centre could improve its booking system.

Your answer: _____ words

Task 2: Responding to Survey Questions

Time: 26 minutes · Length: 150–200 words

Local Library Expansion Survey

Your local library has received funding for an expansion project, and the community is being asked for input on how to use the additional space.

Which option do you prefer? Why?

- Option A: Add more study rooms and quiet reading areas.
- Option B: Create a large multimedia section with computers, tablets, and interactive learning tools.

Your answer: _____ words

Task 1: Booking Trouble at a Health Centre

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

Dear Manager,

I have been a patient at your health centre for six years and have always valued its care. However, I am writing about a frustrating experience I had last week while trying to book an appointment to renew my blood pressure prescription.

For four consecutive days, the online booking system displayed an error message whenever I selected a time slot. When I phoned instead, I remained on hold for more than 40 minutes on two occasions before the call was disconnected.

As a result, my medication ran out and I went without it for three days. During that time I felt dizzy and suffered persistent headaches, and I eventually spent nearly four hours at a walk-in clinic simply to obtain a refill.

To prevent this from happening to other patients, I would recommend monitoring the website more closely, introducing a callback service during busy periods, and allowing routine prescription renewals to be requested online. Even setting aside a few same-day slots for urgent renewals would make a real difference.

Thank you for your attention to these suggestions.

Sincerely,

Marisol Ortega

Task 2: Local Library Expansion Survey

Excellent sample answer (written at around CLB 11–12, an estimate, not an official score)

I advocate for Option A, as enhancing study rooms and quiet reading areas best serves the library's fundamental role as a haven for focused learning. With the rise of remote education, students and professionals increasingly seek tranquil spaces to concentrate—a need libraries are uniquely positioned to fulfill. Expanding these areas would provide a vital resource, especially for those lacking a quiet home environment. I've seen friends thrive academically thanks to such spaces.

By contrast, multimedia tools, while appealing, are ubiquitous in modern life, available through personal devices or educational institutions. The library's strength lies in offering what's scarce: an undisturbed setting for deep thought and study.

Investing in study spaces over a tech-heavy section ensures the library remains a sanctuary for intellectual growth, catering to diverse community needs with lasting impact. It's a choice I fully support for its practicality and alignment with our shared values.
